CONCLUSION

This website is just amazing. It offers all the information anyone could need. Also, this information is easily manageable enabling or disabling all different layers. The user can save the layers they need. The amount of information is crazy, and it can be a bit overwhelming at first, but after some try-error anyone can use it with confidence. I would love to find a lot of mistakes in it but I don't. The information Windy.com offers is just outstanding. The user experience could be improved giving to beginner users a simplified version, easier to handle according to the sport/activity they chose creating their profile.

I would also prioritize the social side of it. To me Windy.com hides it a bit. It would be good to make it as important as the information and maps part. This way we could get the app to become the standard in the market, as users would use it to manage complete and accurate information but also to talk to colleagues or finding information about spots to go to.

In addition, integration with GPS navigation or own navigation app with offline mode, would allow users to just use our app. The size of it with all the options may become an issue but it worths trying it.
